

CALL FOR PRESENTATIONS

2022 EP Research Symposium

The Association for Comprehensive Energy Psychology will be hosting its Eleventh Annual Research Symposium next year. We are accepting research studies and papers in the fields of Energy Psychology and Energy Medicine to be presented at our international conference on Thursday, May 12, 2022.

Energy Psychology is a relatively new but exciting approach in the field of psychology. Over 100 research studies and five meta-analyses have documented the efficacy of these methods. We offer mentoring for grad students with thesis and dissertation projects, as well as our annual Research Symposium to present papers to colleagues from around the world. This is an opportunity for professors and grad students to conduct cutting-edge research while truly making a difference.

We are seeking original empirical research, randomized controlled studies, case studies and theoretical papers. New researchers, professors and graduate students are especially encouraged to present.

The deadline for submissions is November 20, 2021.

Submissions

Please submit your proposal, via email, in THREE attachments:

- 1) Name and Credentials (MA, MSW, PhD); Contact information; Brief bio (approx. 125 words); and a CV for each researcher.
- 2) Title, Abstract, Introduction, Objectives, Methods, Results (or Expected Results, if not yet completed), and Discussion.

All proposals should follow CONSORT guidelines (for RCTs) and CARE guidelines (for case studies), insofar as applicable. See: <http://www.equator-network.org/reporting-guidelines/consort/>

<http://www.care-statement.org/resources/checklist>

- 3) Supporting documents: Tables, graphs, charts, spreadsheets.

Notification of acceptance or rejection will be made by January 15, 2022. Please send your submissions by November 20, 2021 to:

John Freedom, freejiii@gmail.com