Healing the Business of Healing: Heart-Centered, Soulful Sales

One of the Four Pillars of Energy Healing Sustainability in the world is healing the business of healing! I find most energy healers are “allergic” to sales, marketing, and even technology. On top of that, fears of being visible and “known” as a healer, limiting beliefs that create self doubt and self sabotage, and deep abundance and money blocks, all combine to keep too many healers stuck and unable to break through and create a thriving business. I'll teach you the fundamentals of how to speak with people about your amazing work in a way that feels authentic, connected, and empowering, and has people leaning in to want to work with you – without you feeling fake, or pushy, or salesy.

There's a different path to success for energy healers, the soulpreneur path, and it's the heart-centered, authentic, and soulful way to success.
