BOOK REVIEW

Book review: Accessing Higher Truth By Chastity Hyllion

Accessing Higher Truth by Dr. Melinda H. Connor, has previously only been available in a book plus workbook form as 'Emotion, Intuition and Compassion' and only made available for classes given at the university level. Now available as a new edition produced by Arnica Press, NY, the book and workbook are combined in Accessing Higher Truth, where they provide seamless training in how to channel and access material available at higher states of consciousness.

While there are several good books available on channeling on the market, none give this kind of explicit training on how to set-up, make the appropriate links safely, drill and achieve these states in an easy to understand, step-by-step process. The book is set-up to train the practitioner over 16 weeks with meditations, skills drills, and written exercises designed to build the links and clarity to enable the development of reliable information. Written in easy-to-understand language and steps, Dr. Melinda H. Connor has made the process of a stable connection to universal information, happen with greater accuracy, and consistent reliability.

The book is currently available in all three formats (ebook, soft cover and hardback) on Amazon.com.
